

I strongly oppose any relaxation of the current rules on media ownership. Media monopolies via concentration through ownership can and would be generated, wresting democracy from the hands of the people and negatively affecting media consumers.